Did you know they were police officers at this time? 19 CAID subsequent to May 31st of 2008, is that correct? 20 A. No. When they were rushing in, I didn't know what it was. 20 21 Q. Did they announce that they were police officers, Detroit 21 A. That's correct. 22 22 O. So you did not attend Halloween Funk Night then? police officers? 23 23 A. That's correct. A. I heard -- there was a lot of commotion. There was a lot Q. So you were telling me that these officers were coming in 24 of screaming, and there was a lot of loud voices yelling to 24 25 get down and get the fuck down. And I didn't hear anybody 25 with their guns pointed at you and flashlights. What LUZOD REPORTING SERVICE LUZOD REPORTING SERVICE (313) 962-1176 (313) 962-1176 Page 35 Page 37 1 happened after that? 1 say it's the police or anything similar to that. 2 2 A. I had been explaining that people started going to the Q. How were they dressed? 3 3 A. Most were dressed in all black. Most of them had masks Q. Were you still outside at this time? .4, 5 Q. The entire face? A. Yes, I was. 6 Q. Then what happened? 6 A. Well, they needed someplace to see. They had it almost 7 A. I thought it would be in my best interest to get down, 7 like in the old west, like a bandana covering up to maybe 8 also, so I -- I -- what I did was, I kneeled to the ground, 8 the top of their nose. I seen a few like that. Some had 9 put my hands on top of my head. 9 camouflage-style dark outfits on. Some had all black in 10 Q. What do you mean kneel? Did you squat or did you get on terms of the mask. A few had uncovered -- they weren't 10 11 your knees? 11 covering their faces. A. I got on my knees. And I hunched forward with my hands on 12 It was very shocking, and it happened very 12 my head, both my hands visible for the officers to see that 13 13 quickly, them coming in, announcing who they are. BRUNER-JAMES:  The word police in these photographs, would you agree that's fairly prominent?  A. Yes.  MR. ASHFORD: I'm going to object to the form.  BY MS. BRUNER-JAMES:  Q. When the police officers first entered the CAID, could you see any words or insignias that were similar to the ones that you can see in these pictures?  A. I couldn't see any markings on them when we were in the patio when we first originally came in.  Q. Okay. And then, finally, can you tell me why are you participating in this lawsuit?  A. Well, I basically have been stripped of my rights and been humiliated from that night, considering Paul and I just started dating. And that was the first time I have ever met his brother, and I still apologize to him to this day for having him go through all that.  I mean, now, even though I work downtown, I used to hang out downtown a lot. But like ever since that night, like now I just I would rather go somewhere else, just because that's just wrong with what the cops did;

It would be rather the incident itself, depending on the incident itself, the circumstances of each incident, and the person that is there. Each individual circumstance sets up its own set of circumstances. Sometimes they go to jail; times they don't. Sometimes they're ticketed and

We do the same thing with narcotics; we assist them if they know there's going to be a large amount of people in a place that they were going to go hit.  If you're providing assistance to vice enforcement in an operation or a raid, who is in command?  The head of vice.  Okay. You mentioned carlier today the term blind pig.  Can you tell me your understanding of what a blind pig is?  A place that serves alcohol after hours or a place that doesn't have a liquor license and was selling alcohol without the license during hours.  Anything else?  No.  The answer is no?  No.  How many times have you participated in a raid of a blind pig?  Hundreds,  Hundreds,  At least over a hundred.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	A Q A	would be the target of such arrests?  The instigators.  By-instigators, do-you-mean-the-people-actually-running—the blind pig?  It goes both ways. It's the people running it from the security to individuals in the blind pig have gone to jail, too, because—Please continue.  For whatever, for narcotics, weapon violations, warrants. You process a person. You run their names, you find out what they have, if they have any issues. If they have felony warrants, they go to jail. It's a multifaceted thing that happens.  The people who are not what you described as the instigators but the people who just happen to be there, if they go to jail, is that because you found something once you detained them there that would cause them to go to jail?  It would be rather the incident itself, depending on the incident itself, the circumstances of each incident, and the person that is there. Each individual circumstance sets up its own set of circumstances. Sometimes they go

A I have seen We have had discussions on blind pig raids, like I said previously, in the academy and through experience working with vice, working with narcotics, working with individual units, working with the County. I have seen some of this information on some of the nuisance abatement forms that are printed out, that are handed to the people when you have taken their car.  Q The notices that you give?  A Correct. It seems like a very similar document.  Q Have you had a chance to review what's written on this document? And I'll just ask — I'll tell you my question is whether you believe it accurately reflects the Detroit Police Department's policy regarding blind pigs and blind pig raids?  MR ASHFORD: Object to that question. No foundation. You can answer, though. You can answer if you can.  THE WITNESS: It looks like it, yes, standard operating procedure for a raid.  BY MR. KOROBKIN:	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	would follow as guidelines, and you would put "need uniformed officers for rear security," that would be me.  Q. So have you ever been assigned one of the tasks one through nine, or are you always in the "need uniformed officers for rear security"?  A I was uniformed officers rear security or crowd control. That's what my job was tasked.  Q By the way, uniformed officers, does that mean the standard blue conventional, you know, police department uniform?  A Depending on time and day. For years in tac mobile we were in uniform, badge, hat, uniform. I was in a uniform, but it's the tac mobile uniform. It's a black set of BDUs, patch, ID; gun belt.  Q I'm sorry. BDUs?  A Yes, BDUs.  Q What does that mean?  A That's just what they're called, the initials for them. They're 5.11 BDUs, that's the name of them.  Q Can you describe what that is?  A Similar to a military uniform.  Q It looks more paramilitary than police?

But like I said, there was times that we went out, and SRT wasn't used, and we needed them to the point of — because of numerous weapons, narcotics, issues, issues with people, people fighting with the police when we pulled up. There was issues.  Is it fair to say that if you were expecting a crowd, but it was expected that the crowd would be peaceful, that SRT would not be needed?	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	Q A Q 1 A Q 1 A Q 1 A Q C 1 A Q C C C C C C C C C C C C C C C C C C	using tear gas; and then towards the end we were in what became our uniform and is still our uniform to this day which-is-basically-the-BDU-uniform-with-the-name-tag-and-a-badge, but it's all black.  And that's what you were wearing on March 31st, 2008?  Correct.  Have you ever participated in surveillance of a blind pig before a raid occurs?  No.  Now, if you look on the piece of paper you're looking at now, it says raid commander and deputy raid commander, and it lists them as being a lieutenant and a sergeant. Would those officers be lieutenants and sergeants in the vice squad?  Yeah, absolutely.  And is there anyone else during a blind pig raid with a command level position other than the raid commander and the deputy raid commander?  Only if an incident happens, i.e., an incident where a barricaded gurman would ensue or something, and then it would switch over from the raid commander. But just for the raid, the raid commander is in charge.

Did you personally, yes, see anybody engaged in illegal activity?  No.  You mentioned previously that the vice squad members sometimes use face masks to cover their face when they—Yes, — are in a raid? Do you remember whether any of the vice

I remember it was just an open space. I remember joking about it being an art institute, but there's no art.  There was nothing there, just open, and then cracked a joke about how much the drinks were. Went outside, a bunch of picnic tables, people outside, a bunch of people, you know, seventy, eighty people.  What was the behavior of the people inside and outside? Some of the people were getting on the ground. Some of the people were talking, what would be verbal defiance, you know, but most people complied. Basically, that was the gist of it. Once we all made it in, everybody was told to get on the ground, and most were compliant. By the time you made it into the building, were most people on the ground?  Yeah. There was quite a few people on the floor, yes. And is the same true, by the time you made it outside, were most people outside on the ground?  Yeah. From my recollection, yes.  You said there was verbal defiance. Can you describe	3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	Q A Q A Q A Q A Q	they were supposed to. Yes, some people were being guided back into the building, but pushing and shoving them, no.  More, "Here, you need to come this way. Let's go back into the building."  And that was not during the initial stage when everyone was getting down on the ground?  No.  That was later?  That was later.  When you first made it into the building and again when you first made it into the outside area, did you witness anyone engaged in illegal activity?  What do you mean? Did I visibly see anybody?  Did you personally, yes, see anybody engaged in illegal activity?  No.  You mentioned previously that the vice squad members sometimes use face masks to cover their face when they—Yes.

You're saying he was in a place where it was being sold?  A Correct.  Q Defendant 60, that would be your ticket as well, right?  A Yeah. Yep.  Q Okay. And the same is true; you didn't observe him doing anything other than being present in the location?  A Correct.  Q Number 70, is that true of number 70 as well?  A Yes.  Q And you issued that ticket, right?  A Correct.  Q And number 95, is that also true for number 95?  A Yes.  Q So you issued the ticket to Thomas Mahler for loitering in	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14- 15 16 17 18 19	A Correct. And it has been three years.  Q When you wrote this ticket, did you give a copy to Mr.  Mahler?  A Yes.  Q That's standard procedure, right?  A Yes.  Q Are there other copies of the ticket that go somewhere else?  A All of that stuff went back with vice. The tickets belonged to the vice unit.  Q Do you happen to know what happens to the other copies of the ticket that go back to vice?  A They process them. They eventually end up at the court.  Q Do you know what the process is by which they end up at the court?  A I don't know vice's process. I can tell you our process, the processes I have been in.  Q Okay. Well, with the understanding that this is not the process that you went through in this particular case,

KOROBKIN: Q Now, these statistics that you recap that are part of the recap of activity on an activity log, do those get summarized at the end of a reporting period?  A For a police officer, not for a sergeant. Q And the police officer writes their own summary?  A Well, they're supposed to keep a record of it. Q And then that goes to a sergeant or a supervisor?  A It has to be turned in at the end of the month, which would be a supervisor. Not particularly meaning that it	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	dispute or controversy? Q So given that you have done this before, you have some sense of the ground rules, but I'll just remind you of a few. One really important rule is that since we have a court reporter who is taking down what we say here, it's important that you answer verbally. So if you forget to answer verbally and you nod or shake your head, I might remind you to give your answer verbally instead, and try to avoid saying mm-hmm or uh-uh, things like that. And if you don't hear my question and you want to hear it again, you can ask the court reporter to read it back, or I can ask her for you. If you don't understand my question, please let me know, and I can rephrase it for you so that we're both on the same page.  Also, you're being represented here by Mr.  Ashford who works for the City of Detroit Law Department, and periodically he might make some objections to the questions that I ask today, but unless he instructs you

I mean, I can't say that I have actually held on to everything that I have been trained on, or, I mean, is that Is that what	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 31 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	please? BY MS. JAMES: Q Sure. I'll take Exhibit 1 back from you. We're done with that.  And, Sergeant Potts, I'll just ask you again whether you have reviewed any documents in preparation for your deposition today? A Two CRISNET reports. Q And may I see those reports? Thank you. Just for the record, the CRISNET reports that Sergeant Potts has handed me are reports number 0805310096.1 dated 5-31-2008. That is a seven-page document. The second report is the same series of numbers for the first ten numbers with a decimal point three, dated 6-2-2008, and that's an eight-page document. Thank you.  Did you participate in the preparation of those CRISNET reports at all? A No.

JAMES:  When you said a moment ago it's a given, I'm trying to understand how did any officer who was a part of that raid know what they were to do?  Well, these weren't rookies, for one. And more or less, if you have participated in a vice raid before, normally this is their operating procedure. So as far as their role, once everything is secured, they're doing whatever they do. Our support role for tac mobile was mainly for the crowd control, crime patrol of the patrons, obtaining IDs, segregating, again, if there were any juveniles, and more or less securing the place as they would write their	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	O A Q A Q A Q A Q A	officers were a part of that initial entry team?  No, I don't recall.  What's the first thing that you recall on the scene at the  CAID that evening?  Chaotic. People were — a lot of yelling, a lot of shouting.  Is this after you entered the CAID?  Yes.  Who was shouting, if you recall, if you know?  Between the patrons and the officers.  Okay. Once you entered the building, do you recall what part of the building you went to first?  I've got a lot of buildings that I have been in, and I don't want to misspeak and give you the wrong layout, so, no, I don't recall.  I'm going to try and refresh your memory a little bit, and if you don't remember, that's okay; you can tell me you don't remember. But as I understand the layout of this building, there was a dance floor area, there was another room that had a bar set up, and there was an outdoor patio. Those were roughly the sections within the building. Do you recall any of those rooms or areas?

18	A Normally, yes.	18	BY MS. JAMES:
1.9	Q By the absence of any such notation on this activity log,	19	Q Okay. And is it your understanding that such
20	could you assume that you had issued no tickets?	20	documentation I guess, let me ask it differently.
21	MR. ASHFORD: Objection as to form.	21	What is your understanding of the significance
22	BY MS, JAMES:	22	of documenting police activity?
23	Q I can ask it a different way if you're not sure.	23	A Okay. I'm not following.
24	A Piease,	24	Q Okay. Why fill out a CRISNET?
25	Q Are there circumstances where you issue tickets, but for	25	MR. ASHFORD: Objection, asked and answered.

I believe you testified that you, yourself, did not write any reports as a result of this raid; is that correct?  MR. ASHFORD: Objection as to form.  THE WITNESS: Write any reports?  BY MS. JAMES:  Q Yeah. Other than your activity log. We just looked at your activity log, so we know you have some document from that day. I'm asking something a little different. Did you create any documents specifically describing your activity in this raid?  MR. ASHFORD: Objection as to form.  THE WITNESS: Are you asking me did I do a CRISNET report?  BY MS. JAMES:  Q What in general is the importance of report writing?  A Documentation.  Q For what purpose? I mean, it's not for the sake of using up paper. It's for some other purpose, right?  A For any police action that might have been taken.  Q How are these reports used following the action that was taken?  A Okay. I don't understand.  Q When you fill out a CRISNET, what do you do with it?  MR. ASHFORD: Objection, no foundation.  BY MS. JAMES:  Q Have you ever filled out a CRISNET before?  A Yes.  Q Okay. On the occasions that you have filled out a CRISNET, what do you do with the report after you complete it?  A It's electronic. Once I'm through with it, I send it electronically to be reviewed by my supervisor or whoever the officer in charge at the desk is. He reviews it. If

Objection as to form.  THE WITNESS: It's one of — you know, a record of an account that the officers documented.  BY MS. JAMES:  Q And if you didn't have the CRISNET report, is it fair to say that an officer would have to rely on his own memory to recall the facts of a police activity?  A Yes.  Q And do you agree that a written report is a preferable way of documenting those facts as opposed to relying on an officer's memory?  MR. ASHFORD: Objection, no foundation.  THE WITNESS: I'm not sure how to even answer that one. Rephrase that. You lost me again.  BY MS. JAMES:  Q Do you agree that if you were asked to testify regarding a police activity that you took, that you would rather have a report to refer to than rely on your own memory; is that fair?	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	BY MS. JAMES: Q Okay. And do you also agree that included in that documentation should be your best account as an officer of what you saw and what you did in the activity that you're documenting; is that fair?  MR. ASHFORD: Objection, form and foundation.  THE WITNESS: Yes. BY MS. JAMES: Q Okay. Going back to the May 2008 raid, did you have any reason to believe that the entry into that location presented an unusually dangerous situation based on the information that was given to you?  MR. ASHFORD: Objection as to form.  THE WITNESS: Don't recall. BY MS. JAMES: Q Do you recall whether you were advised as to the presence of weapons at that location? A Good law enforcement training, you always anticipate weapons are on site any time you do a raid. Q Okay. And is it fair to say that this raid was conducted according to the standard operating procedures for all executions of search warrants on blind pigs; is that fair?

3	A Vice-related activity.
4	Q And is that what you were told?
5	A Yes.
6	Q You weren't told anything more specific than that?
7	A If they went into great detail, I couldn't recall.
8	Q And what is your understanding of vice-related activities?
9	What illegal activities?
10	A The things I stated earlier, the prostitution, the illegal

It's this wide. It's this many doors. You would have gotten general information on it. You would have gotten, you know, just the basic information on the location before you would raid blind pigs, anything, before you do anything. You will get a pre you know, just this is the basis of it, but that was it. What was said in '08 on something that I wasn't even part of getting together or anything, I wouldn't even come close to remembering because it was vice. It had nothing to do with narcotics. We were just assisting another unit, so me assisting another unit, I'm not going to remember any other details because it wouldn't be something that would be important enough for me to remember.  Q. So what you were describing to me a moment ago is what typically occurs?  A. Typically.  Q. But you don't recall this particular briefing?  A. I absolutely do not recall the briefing on this one, but what typically would happen prior to

Okay?  Q. Fair enough. So was it someone at vice who made the decision to charge everyone with loitering in a place of illegal occupation?  A. That would have been vice.  Q. Okay. And do you recall when that decision was made?  A. I do not.  Q. And I apologize. I just need to follow-up a little bit.  A. No problem.  Q. Do you have any recollection of whether that decision was made before or after entry into the building?  A. I do not. That I wouldn't know.  Q. Okay. As a general rule in the few, the more than two blind pig raids that you've participated in, do you recall whether you ever got instructions before entry was made as to what people were	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	entering the location, so there might have been a briefing on the location is at ABC spot.
